The role of Sport Talent Manager is to represent the agency and contribute to its growth and success.

With his professional experience and in-depth knowledge of the sports industry, Jonathan's mission will be to expand the client network and facilitate the recruitment and integration of new talents into the agency.

Jonathan fully embodies the values of Akatsa: young, 28 years old, resilient, and with a strong passion for client relations. He serves as a bridge between the agency's professionals and athletes, a network he knows intimately.

As a 360° communication agency, Akatsa specializes in developing the personal brand of high-level athletes and sports professionals. Initiated by its founder, Marvin Wilfried Fando, the agency aims to leave a lasting impression and build remarkable careers that stand the test of time.
